EXPEDITION 3.0

BUILD YOURS NOW

Best For: Weekend Warriors

The Expedition 3.0 is built for buyers who spend their free time chasing remote campsites, mountain roads, crown land routes, and backcountry exploration. It is designed to maximize capability, durability, and four-season confidence while remaining practical enough for frequent use.

Weekend warriors often want a trailer that can leave the city Friday afternoon and confidently handle rough terrain by nightfall. The Expedition 3.0 is purpose-built for that style of travel, offering rugged suspension options, organized storage, off-grid systems, and serious all-weather performance.

Ideal Use Cases:

Weekend overlanding trips

Backcountry exploration

Crown land camping

Four-season camping

Hunting and fishing weekends

Remote mountain travel

Why Buyers Choose the Expedition 3.0:

Buyers choose the Expedition 3.0 because it delivers serious off-road capability without sacrificing comfort. It is the trailer for people who genuinely intend to use their equipment in demanding environments and unpredictable weather conditions.

PANDO 3.0

BUILD YOURS NOW

Best For: Family Adventurers & Remote Workers

The Pando 3.0 is designed for buyers who want a more comfortable and refined off-grid camping experience without moving into a full-size RV. Its larger rear galley, integrated sleeping setup, organized storage, and four-season capability make it especially appealing to families and travelers spending extended time outdoors.

For family adventurers, the Pando creates a more livable campsite experience with easier meal prep, better sleeping comfort, and enough storage to support longer trips without feeling cramped. For remote workers and digital nomads, the Pando offers a comfortable off-grid basecamp with the power systems, organization, and flexibility needed for extended travel and work-from-anywhere lifestyles.

Ideal Use Cases:

- Family camping trips
- National park touring
- Remote work travel
- Long weekend escapes
- Scenic road trips
- Multi-day off-grid adventures

Why Buyers Choose the Pando 3.0:

Buyers choose the Pando 3.0 when comfort, convenience, and livability matter just as much as capability. It strikes a balance between premium camping comfort and serious off-road readiness.

SWITCHBACK

BUILD YOURS NOW

Best For: Hunters & Anglers

The Switchback is designed for buyers who prioritize utility, modularity, and gear hauling flexibility. Its lightweight design and highly configurable platform make it ideal for outdoor enthusiasts who need a capable trailer that supports changing adventure setups.

Hunters and anglers are often carrying bulky equipment, recovery gear, coolers, fuel, or rooftop tent systems. The Switchback keeps gear organized and accessible while remaining compact enough for tighter trails and smaller tow vehicles.

Ideal Use Cases:

Hunting camps

Fishing trips

Gear hauling

Rooftop tent camping

Utility-focused overlanding

Remote forestry road access

Why Buyers Choose the Switchback:

Buyers choose the Switchback because it offers lightweight towing and modular flexibility without unnecessary complexity. It works exceptionally well for outdoor users who want a rugged utility-focused platform that can evolve with their needs over time.
